HAUSER HIGH SCHOOL
HOPE, INDIANA

DAYS BLUR INTO YEAR OF

Always on the go are the 480 students of Hauser High School - 1966 was no exception. This was really the year for big moves, especially the move to the new school, located south of Hope on State road 9.

Students cheered their teams through one of the best basketball seasons in the school's history. They watched fall turn into winter and the rapid approach of the Prom and then graduation.

This year has been a year of learning, of enthusiasm and of activities. From the old school to the new, Hauser has really been on the move growing and learning.

AT HAUSER STUDENTS FIND

Realizing that they not only need time for study but also for recreation, students somehow always find time for relaxation. Their varied activities do not always appear restful, but they are a switch from home-work. Students manage to keep the school alive through their spirit.

Students at Hauser show their enthusiasm at ball games and everyday activities.

TIME FOR DIVERSIFYING ACTIVITIES

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES CREATE FELLOWSHIP

As the year surged on, it brought the end of the basketball season and the sectional. May was not only time for graduation but also for the Prom.

'Seventeen is Terrific' was presented by the Senior Class in April. The class play brought strenuous work but the fun shared in presenting it was unforgettable.

AND FREE TIME FOR HAUSER STUDENTS

HAUSER ON THE MOVE TO BE AHEAD
THROUGH LEARNING

Realizing the higher standards being set for college entrance and job opportunities, the students at Hauser strive to meet the demands. Students learn to use their time accordingly and in doing so profit from their courses.

SHIFT BRINGS OLD FACES TO NEW POSITIONS

Mr. Howard Epperson, principal at Clifford, awaits the move to the new school at which time the junior high will ease its overcrowded condition.

Mr. Glen S. Keller, who serves as principal at Hauser, is also sponsor of the Student Council and Booster Club.

The administration at Hauser had a new look this year. Last year's principal, Mr. Robert Rowe, became the superintendent after the death of Mr. Robert Norris. Mr. Glen S. Keller became the new principal at Hauser. Mr. Keller worked in the Flatrock-Hawcreek School Corporation from 1957 to 1959 as teacher and principal at Clifford. Mr. Howard Epperson is the principal at Clifford now.

Overcrowded conditions at both Hope and Clifford brought new problems for the student body, but the principals and superintendent worked to relieve the stress temporarily until the move occurred.

Mr. Rowe, superintendent, takes a moment out of his busy day to have his picture taken.

IN MEMORY OF . . .

In memory of Mr. Robert Norris, late superintendent of Flat Rock-Hawcreek School Corporation, the student body of Hauser High School wishes to express its sincere gratitude for his many hours spent in service to the school.

SCHOOL BOARD COMPLETES PLANS FOR NEW BUILDING

With the new school being built and the everyday business to take care of, the Flat Rock-Hawcreek School Board works to keep things running smoothly.

Members of the school board are Harold Chandler, Superintendent Robert Rowe, Edgar Wetzel, Richard Yarnell, Morris McKinney, and Harold Finke.

MODERN MATH TECHNIQUES SLOWLY

Mabel Utter

First year algebra students learn their basic fundamentals of algebra under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Utter who also has charge of geometry, Advanced Algebra, and Senior Math classes.

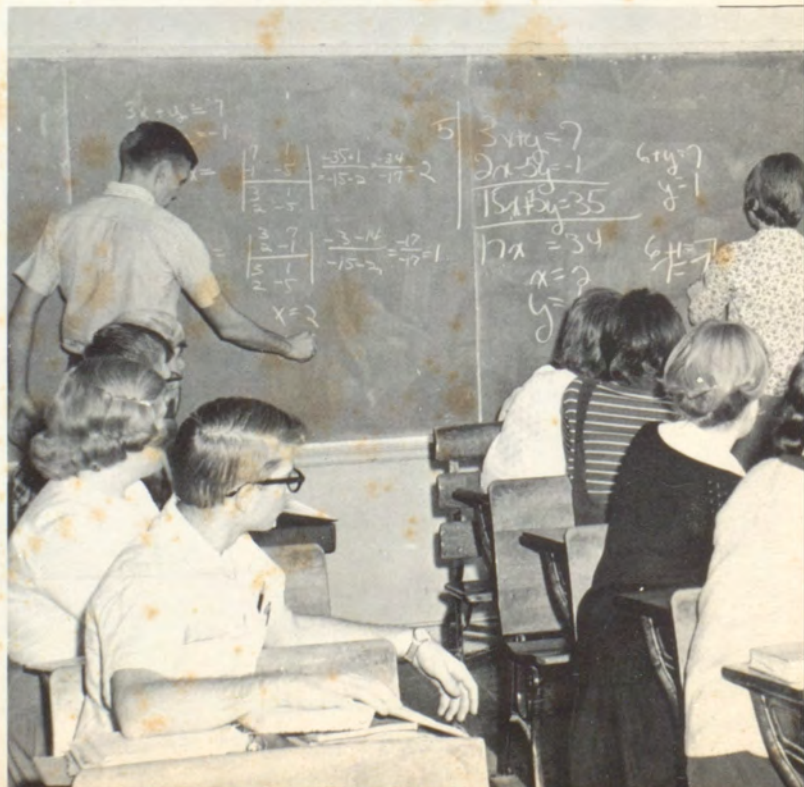

Lance E. Bedwell

MODERN MATH? Modern math was introduced to the Plane Geometry class this year. One new technique of instruction is the use of the new overhead projector.

Fractions, decimals, and percents are a few of the subjects covered by students in Mr. Lance Bedwell's General Math class.

BEGIN REPLACING TRADITIONAL METHODS

With the study of mathematics constantly becoming more complex and exact, the math department at Hauser prepares to meet the challenge of the Space Age by offering courses in modern math.

Changing times have brought drastic change to math. Modern math has been introduced to the first and second year algebra classes and geometry classes. The change did not affect the senior math students who are using the same books. TEMAC, a self-instructed course that was used before was discontinued.

MOBILES WERE a project of the Senior Math class during the first semester. J. D. McQueen holds one mobile while Jo Ann Lambert and Jim Robertson wonder how it was made.

Y EQUALS WHAT? The advanced algebra class are busy working equations with two unknowns. This is just the beginning. As the year progresses solving four unknowns will be their problems.

GENERAL MATH students contemplate a difficult problem as fellow students work at the board.

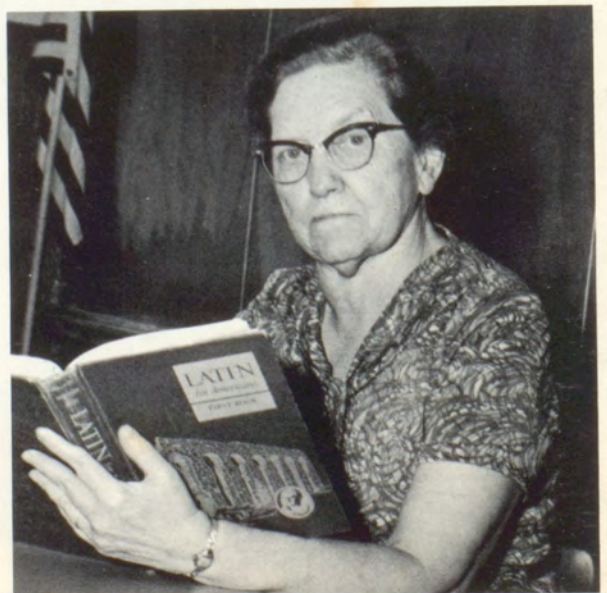

LANGUAGES BREAK COMMUNICATION

POP QUIZZES! Whoever invented unannounced quizzes surely wasn't a friend of these sophomore English students shown as they are cramming at the last minute.

Mrs. Clouse teaches first and second year Latin and Senior English as well as taking care of the high school and elementary libraries at Hauser and Hope. Her help with the Senior class play is always appreciated.

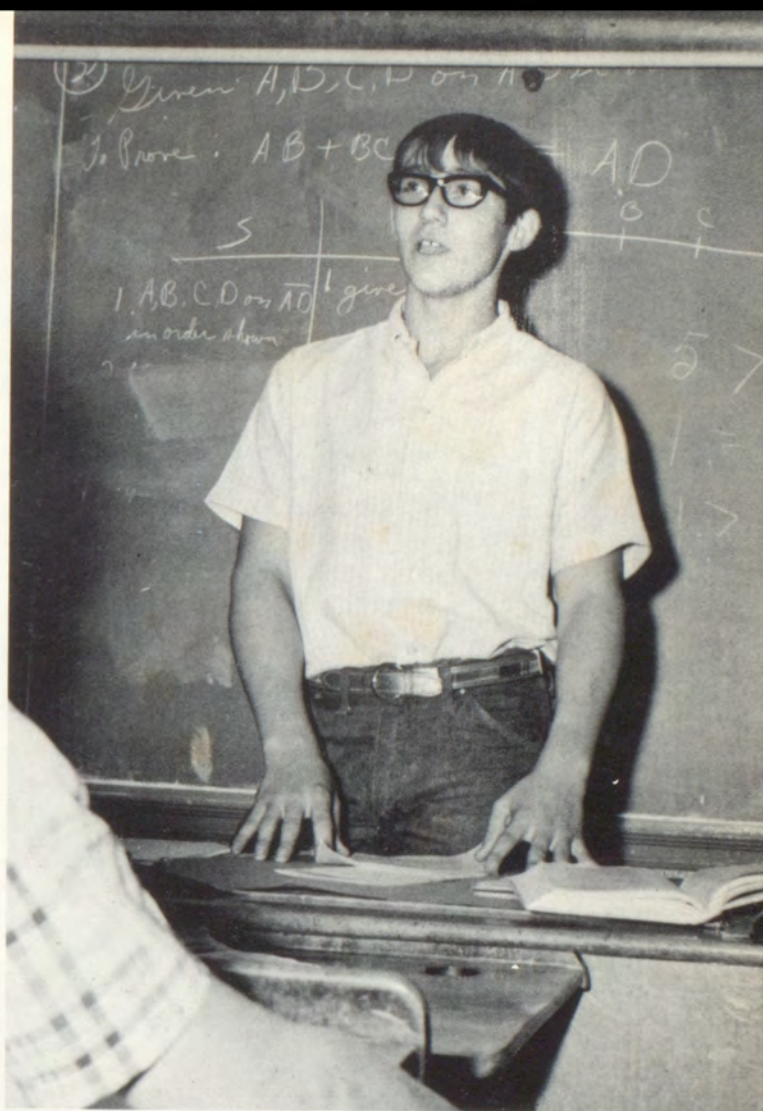

ROMANCE LANGUAGE? These first year Latin students will give you an argument on that. They question the romantic side and agree with the classical aspect.

BARRIER

BUENOS DIAS, SENORITA. David Eichman and Kathy Aldridge are shown acting out a dialogue in their first year Spanish class.

FOURSCORE AND SEVEN... Well maybe not the Gettysburg address, but George Kloss is giving a speech about something in his speech class.

Especially eager for the move to the new school are the language classes. The Spanish classes are anticipating the use of the new language labs.

In speech class students develop poise in learning to speak before a group. Although Latin is not spoken, it is very useful in understanding proper English usage and building larger vocabularies.

Three years of English are required at Hauser. Students going on to higher education take Senior English which is mainly composition and grammar the first semester and literature the second.

Miss Lenon

Miss Alice Lenon teaches four freshman English classes along with first and second year Spanish. She is also one of the freshman class sponsors.

Mr. Miller

A busy man is Mr. Ernest Clayton, teacher of the Vo. Ag., physics, and chemistry classes. Along with his teaching jobs he is a guidance counselor, adviser of the FFA, and teaches adult education classes one night a week.

Having received a scholarship for $75 a week, Mr. Robert Miller attended the Microbiology Institute at IU in the summer of '65. He teaches phys. ed., (boys), driver's training, and is co-sponsor of the senior class.

SEE ANYTHING? Freshman David Bense takes a look in the microscope hoping that it will provide a few answers to some questions as he fills out his biology notebook.

SCIENCE STUDENTS LEARN BY EXPERIMENTING

Interest is aroused in the Science Department when a chemistry student brews up an obnoxious smelling gas or when the physics class suddenly understands how a see-saw works. Both courses, taught by Mr. Clayton, work mainly on theory during the first semester and do laboratory work the second semester. Although grades are earned mainly through test scores, daily work and paying close attention in class are two of the necessities of passing these courses.

Ernest Clayton

FIVE GRAMS, ten, three? It's a problem to learn how to operate an analytical balance in physics class. Tom Marlin, Bruce Connor, and J. D. McQueen try their luck.

HOW MANY ANGSTROMS to the sun? These chemistry students learn to solve problems of this kind on their slide rules. Besides the material in the textbook, Mr. Clayton teaches the chemistry class how to operate a slide rule.

STUDENTS GAIN INSIGHT OF HISTORY

Brad Mitchell

Teaching U.S. History and Junior English is coach Brad Mitchell. New at Hauser this year, Mr. Mitchell has taken his place among the faculty and student body.

Mr. A. J. McQueen teaches World History and U.S. History and is a guidance counselor when not conducting a class. Mr. McQueen is also sponsor of F.T.A. Second semester he devoted his full time to guidance.

BY RE-ENACTING PAST

PLEASED TO MEET YOU. Steve Gabriel, seated, Bob Keller, and Tim Goodwin demonstrate in their citizenship class the proper way of shaking hands.

HE IS NOT AFRAID of you Betty! Mr. Wickard leads discussion in senior psychology class as to why girls are afraid of mice. Betty Simmons appears to be one who is.

Jesh Wickard

At Hauser the social studies department consists of U. S. and world history, citizenship, economics and psychology classes. Second semester Seniors switch to government and world geography replaces economics.

Research papers, dramatizations, and book reports are part of the history program. U. S. and world history help create an appreciation of past civilizations. Students compare past events to present and future events.

Social problems such as dating and getting along with the opposite sex bring about big discussions in the psychology and citizenship classes. These classes probe into the different ways people act to certain situations and why they act that way.

Mrs. Imogene Schooler, the new art teacher, is in charge of all art projects at Hauser and Clifford.

FASTEN YOUR SEAT BELT! Student driver Cynthia Starnes takes her place behind the wheel of the new '66 Ford.

DRIVER'S ED GETS NEW CAR; ART CLASS GETS NEW TEACHER

"PASS THE PASTE", says Linda Cooper as she, Connie Morrow, and Suzanne Finke work on an art lesson that will soon bedeck the walls of study hall.

THEY NEVER WORK when you want them to! Sophomore Wanda Manning is having trouble signing her name to an art masterpiece as Joyce Johnson, also a sophomore, works to complete hers.

CHORUS AND MAJORETTES SING AND SWING

For the students interested in music, chorus provides excellent opportunities. The chorus sings at school concerts, at the school Easter service, and at various church services throughout the community.

*Best Wishes
Mary Workman*

Mrs. Mary Workman teaches two high school chorus classes and elementary music.

BAND RECEIVES

Hardly stopping, even for summer vacation, band members marched through another exciting summer. Highlighting the summer's activities was the competition at the Indiana State Fair and Indiana University Band Day.

This winter much practicing was done for various contests. In January, eleven members participated in the District Solo and Ensemble Contest. Julanna Glick was also entered in state competition.

Paul D. Riddle

Directing the Beginning, Junior, and the Hauser High School Concert and Marching bands keeps Mr. Paul D. Riddle very busy nearly all of the time.

ALONG WITH MORE than 100 other bands, the Hauser Marching Jets were seen participating at the 1966 Indiana State Fair Marching Contest. After practicing for several months, the band presented a splendid performance for the large crowd.

PERSONAL BUSINESS SKILLS ASSURE JOBS

MR. TESH WICKARD teaches psych., gov't., Typing I, cur. problems, gen'l. business, and citizenship, and sponsors the sophomore class.

HUNT AND PECK. Brenda Richardson has passed this stage of typing. She is practicing some exercises in Typing I class.

GENTLEMEN: Shorthand comes in handy to senior Doris Baute as she completes the taking of a letter dictated to her.

Business courses are often pursued by students who are planning to follow a commercial program. Courses such as typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping give the students needed basic skills for such work. These courses are usually taken by juniors and seniors. Calculators, adding machines, a mimeograph machine, and a ditto machine have been purchased for the course in business machines to be taught soon.

HMMMMM, what tedious work! Senior Lynn Finke balances out accounts in a bookkeeping project.

Teaching advanced typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping is Mrs. Guyneth Webster. She is sponsor of Jetstream, Quill and Scroll, and the senior class.

Guyneth Webster

STUDENT BODY TESTS HOME EC. PROJECTS

Teacher of home economics and home nursing is Mrs. Betty Burney. Being sponsor of F.H.A. keeps her busy along with being co-sponsor of the sophomore class.

Best Works Betty Burney

Students got a chance to sample the accomplishments of the Home Economics classes at the annual student Christmas party where the various projects were used as refreshments.

Girls enrolled in Senior Home Economics learn to plan homes from the floor plans to the decorating. Girls visit model homes and furniture shows during the year.

Come and get it! Joyce Moore prepares to serve these hamburgers as Dorothy Southern, Connie Riley, and Lynn Moore look on eagerly.

My, you have a fever! Sophomore Cynthia Starnes demonstrates a technique learned in Home Nursing. Her "sick" patient is Vickie McQueen.

VO-AG BOYS PREPARE FOR AGRICULTURE LEADERSHIP

This year's Vo-Ag program, taught by Mr. Clayton, was built around farm management. The first semester's work covered farm management from the labor efficiency standpoint. The second semester's work covered farm management records.

Royce Glick, Lynn Finke, Don Barring, and Matheno Frazier-Bey are shown testing soil during Vo-Ag class.

MRS. WEBB - GUARDIAN ANGEL OF STUDY HALLS

Study Hall this year had a new lift with the addition of Mrs. Webb to the school staff. She was in charge of study halls beginning with fourth period.

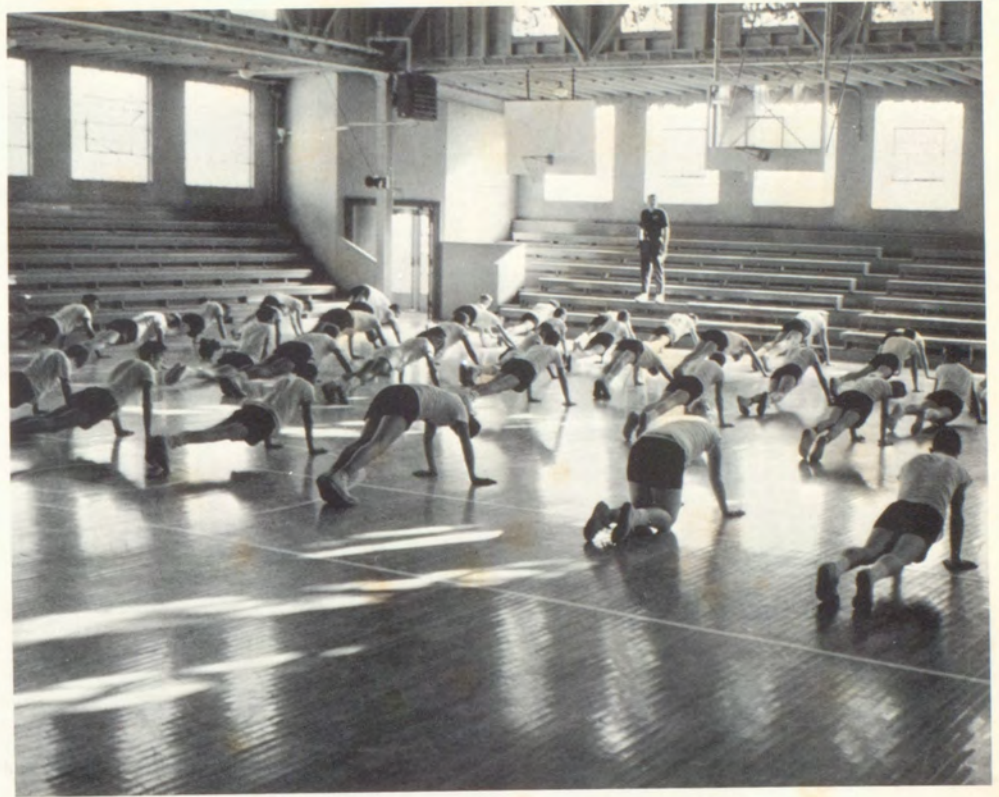

MRS. WEBB graduated from Pikeville College, Kentucky and is working on her degree in special education through Indiana University. During the summer, in her spare time, she drives a Franke's ice cream truck.

BETTER FACILITIES GIVE VARIETY TO PHYS ED

After several years without sufficient facilities, the physical education department is receiving more equipment and larger locker rooms at the new building. This new equipment gives more variety in recreation.

IT'S SO EASY-until you try it. Freshman boys discover that doing push-ups takes more effort than they had imagined.

Girls' physical education teacher is Mrs. Geneva Wickens. She also teaches Junior English and speech and is co-sponsor of the Junior Class.

Geneva Wickens

ON YOUR MARK, GET SET, GO! Joyce Moore, Teresa Fiesbeck, Norma Lortz, and Cynthia Starnes prepare for a shin-bruising game of four corner kick, referred by Diana Hedrick.

HAUSER STUDENTS ARE ON THE MOVE
THROUGH EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Clubs at Hauser keep the students busy along with the curricular activities. This year the clubs have come alive and taken a more active part in school life, but this could not have been accomplished unless the students were supporting them.

LARGER JETSTREAM STAFF WORKS OVERTIME TO MEET DEADLINES

For the Jetstream Staff the most welcome change this year is the added space of the room in the new building. The larger staff has made it necessary for more space to eliminate some of the confusion of publishing a yearbook, such as scattered paper clips, pictures caught behind the radiator, books, papers, and staff members' purses.

YEARBOOK EDITORS hold a conference midway through activities pictures day.

HOW MANY SPACES DO WE INDENT? Questions and answers play an important part in the publication of the yearbook.

STUDENTS GAIN LAURELS WITHIN YEAR

WHAT A TIME! Barb Thayer and Ann Stafford, representatives to Hoosier Girls' State, talk over their experiences with Beth Glick who won the local and district D.A.R. Award.

HOT NEWS STORY! Kathy Aldridge, center, reporter for Hauser Highlights in the Star Journal, and Rosalyn Schaefer, right, school news reporter for the Evening Republican, interview Joyce Caldwell shortly after she received the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award.

GOVERNOR OF HOOSIER BOYS' STATE? No, but senior John Beck did serve as a representative to Boys' State last summer.

SERVICE IS THEIR BUSINESS

Twelve members of the Student Council found themselves very active this year with the added problems of moving into the new school. Responsibilities of the council are to make decisions on problems concerning the student body and to work with the faculty to promote a smoothly functioning school.

This year the council aided in planning activities periods, decorating the school for Christmas, and added to its program plans to increase school spirit and boost student participation in extracurricular activities. Early in October the Student Council, along with the Honor Society, sponsored a dance to get students acquainted.

INDUSTRIOUS STUDENTS SEEK HONORS

Provisionary membership into the Honor Society requires a B average and a student becomes eligible at the end of the sophomore year. Eligibility for honorary membership comes at the end of the junior year. The B average is still required but to be an honorary member the student must be voted in by the teachers. Scholarship, leadership, service, and character are the standards the teachers use to rate the candidates.

Serving as officers this year are Barb Thayer, pres.; Ann Stafford, vice-pres.; Kathie Clouse, treas.; Beth Glick, sec.; and Doris Baute, reporter.

Quill and Scroll is a journalistic organization consisting of members who serve in school publications and rank in the upper third of their class. In February of 1966, six new members were initiated into the society: Amy McKee, Barb Thayer, Ann Stafford, Marcia Finke, Kathy Aldridge and Rosalyn Schaefer.

FFA WINS FIRST PLACE; FHA HELPS THE NEEDY

Preparing young people for the future is the main goal of the FFA and FHA. Boys planning for a career in agriculture gained distinction this year by placing first in the district dairy judging contest. Heading the organization are president, Lynn Finke; vice-president, Ron Hatton; secretary, Roger McKinney; treasurer, Bill Nolting; reporter, John Reed; sentinel, Carlos Crowhorn; and the adviser, Mr. Clayton.

Serving needy families in the community has been the main project of the FHA this year. During the Christmas season the members made children's clothing and prepared cheer baskets for these families. The officers of the FHA are president, Susan Morgan; vice-president, Joyce Caldwell; secretary, Diane Burney; treasurer, Pat Smith; reporter, Julanna Glick; project chairman, Mary Cook; parliamentarian, Charlene Young; and the adviser, Mrs. Burney.

GAA ATTENDS IU PLAYDAY; FTA SUBS FOR TEACHERS

Only two years old, the FTA, sponsored by Mr. A. J. McQueen, has grown to a membership of 28. This year Mary Puterbaugh and Dave Bruner represented them at the district meeting at Charleston. Doris Baute serves as pres.; Gayle Epperson - vice-pres.; Rosalyn Schaefer - sec.; Connie Clark - treas.; Kathy Aldridge - rep.; John Ziegler - his.

GAA, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Geneva Wickens, worked during activities periods and after school to earn their points for letters and pins. Senior girls and phys. ed. assistants went to IU for the annual playday and brought back new ideas in modern dancing, track and field, swimming, and gymnastics.

Serving as president of the GAA is Diana Hedrick with Joyce Webb - vice-pres; Kathy McNicholas - sec.; Charlene Young - treas.; Tammy Holder - rep.

Bigger and louder than it has ever been is the girls' booster club. Boasting 106 members, they perform their job at basketball games supporting the team. On the front row are the officers with Kathy Clouse, treas.; Diane Burney, vice-pres.; Mary Cook, pres.; Brenda Norris, sec.; Cynthia Starnes, reporter.

PEP CLUB BONFIRE STARTS YEAR ROARING

and Bob Moore, vice-pres. Besides having their own special cheers, the boys also help the girls cheer-block at pep sessions and basketball games.

AUDIO-VISUAL EQUIPMENT TEACHES SAFETY

SETTING UP properly is one of the important points when operating a projector. Shown is Darrel Drake who is preparing to show a film to the Agriculture class.

The Audio-Visual department at Hauser advances to keep up with the growing world of audio-visual education. This year two new overhead projectors have been added to the department equipment. Nearly every class has use for a tape recorder or film at one time or another, and there is always a member of the staff on hand to operate the equipment.

Safety Patrol boys provide supervision for grade school children going to and from school. They are stationed at points where the traffic conditions are most hazardous. They are on hand at their posts in all kinds of weather.

CAUGHT by the camera on their way to their posts as Safety Patrol volunteers are John Beck and Ted Merrick.

WANDA WINS WITH PENNY VOTES

AFTER WEEKS OF WORK, Wanda Manning and her court look relieved as co-editor Susan Shaffer announces the runners-up and queen. Shown are Joyce Gilliland and Mickey Turner; Joyce Webb and Wayne Thompson; Julanna Glick and Lynn Finke; Wanda Manning and Bruce Conner; Diane Bullard and Vance Hege; Mary McQueen and Royce Glick; John Trimmell, Kathy Glick, and John Lashley.

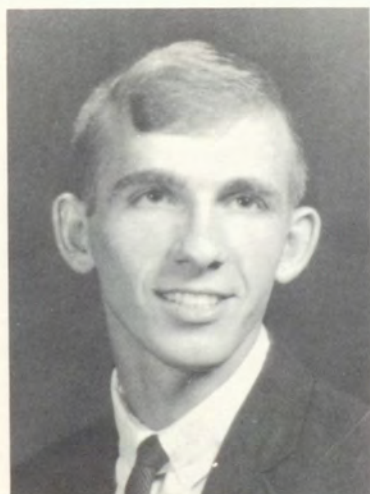

CO-CAPTAIN JOHN TRIMNELL crowns Queen Wanda as Lynn Finke watches in the background.

BARBARA AND ED REIGN AT "SOUTH PACIFIC," 1966 PROM QUEEN

BARBARA THAYER

ED DAILEY, KING

After months of scrimping and saving and weeks of anxious anticipation and worry, the Junior Class presented their triumph: "A Roman Holiday." The evening of May 8 provided an escape from our sometimes monotonous world to the classic splendor of Rome at her Height.

The setting of the 1965 Prom was complete to the finest detail. Even slaves from the sophomore class were present to serve their masters. The evening was highlighted by the crowning of seniors Shirley Dailey and David Herron as Queen and King.

CLASS PRESIDENT John Trimnell crowns Shirley Dailey queen of "A Roman Holiday" with the Roman symbol of honor, the laurel wreath.

The students and faculty owe much to these secretaries and helpers who keep the office work at Hauser moving smoothly. Problems and details are encountered every day in the offices of FlatRock-Hawcreek Corporation. Their efforts often go without much recognition, but it is certain that their services are well appreciated.

OFFICE HELPERS Tammy Holder, Teresa Herron, Kathy Aldridge, Betty Simmons, Phyllis Rutan, Herb Boilanger, and J. D. McQueen are seldom inactive. They must often run from one end of school to the other on various assignments.

HAUSER ON THE MOVE TO BE ON TOP IN SPORTS

Basketball, track, cross country, and baseball, the major sports at Hauser, have been enjoyed this year in a new way. A new wave of spirit and loyalty has been aroused. Students have been constantly on the move supporting their team at games and meets. The boys participating have spent many long hours at practice to achieve the victories.

RECORDS LEFT AND RIGHT

School Spirit was at a peak this year during the basketball season as our Jets zoomed high in its outstanding winning season. Many records were broken during the season. A new point record was made during the Nineveh game when 112 points were scored. The total points scored on the home court reached a new high of 98 against New Point. With 58 per cent, a new field goal record was made. The Jets won more games this season than in any other since the beginning of the school corporation. A new trophy was added to the trophy case when the Jets were runner-up in the holiday tourney at Southwestern.

The reserve team, coached by Robert Miller, is composed of freshmen and sophomores who are gaining the needed experience they will use next year on the Varsity. Their record this year, although it is not perfect, is very impressive and is proof of their hard work.

SUPER-JETS FLY HIGH OVER OPPONENTS

"HEY, DON, WHERE ARE YOU?" wonders John Trimmell as he scans the floor for teammate Don Mankin.

The Hauser Jets have displayed great ability in Hoosier Hysteria. New techniques, taught by Coach Mitchell, and the willingness of the team have brought Hauser its greatest winning season.

NO ONE gets in the way of sophomore Dave Herron as he drives for two in reserve action.

JETS CONDITION SELVES DURING SPRING SEASON

TRACK TEAM--STANDING: A st. Coach Robert Miller, Steve Rominger, Butch Turner, Herb Bolanger, John Trimmell, Lynn Finke, Jim Anderson, Bob Moore, Coach

HUFFING AND PUFFING, John Johnson, top cross country runner, strides toward the finish of his two miles.

STILL GOING STRONG is John Trimmell as he pushes for the finish of the tiring run.

HAUSER ON THE MOVE
WITH ITS PEOPLE

A new face is not unfamiliar for long. Getting acquainted and making lasting friends are just part of a day in the life of a Hauser student, but this is not only at school. They share the same enthusiasm in community life. Responsibilities are learned and accepted by the students at Hauser in keeping their school the way they want it.

PEERING INTO THE FUTURE the senior class officers, John Trimmell, president, and his all girl executive staff, are caught as they lean on an unfinished wall at the new school. Next to him are Beth Glick, secretary; Phyllis Rutan, treasurer; Barb Thayer, vice-president; and Doris Baute, reporter.

JUNIORS

Faced with the gigantic task of raising money for their prom, the Junior Class struggled at selling cokes, sponsoring car washes, bake sales, and soc hops.

Their selection of square class rings provided excitement earlier in the year before the rush of the prom began.

HAUSER ELEMENTARY ON THE MOVE INTO VACATED HIGH SCHOOL

Recesses are the favorite part of school for most elementary students. Working toward entering high school, their characters are formed. As they leave the halls of grade school their young minds are steadily growing and adding new ideas, knowledge, and skills. Adding more room to the elementary by the high school moving out helped eliminate the problem of overcrowded classrooms.

SCHOOL CLOSSES - MAKES WAY FOR NEW LIFE

Although it's fun and excitement to the last minute, students always seem glad to see June on the calendar. For seniors it's somewhat sad but there's a world of future waiting for them.

HI KIDS,

This year has really been one of fun and surprises. We all had good reasons for being proud of our winning basketball team. Our convocations ranged from entertaining to enlightening. Although our last deadline is here, we still anticipate the sectional, the prom, and graduation.

When we planned this book last summer, we were under the assumption that there would be a move to the new school south of Hope in February. As most of you know, the switch did not come, but it was already too late to change our theme. Our book has been done as if the move actually happened.

Deadlines, lost pictures, and surprise parties have made this year one of nerves and laughter. We have enjoyed working with our Staff and Adviser and would like to thank them for their part in presenting to you our 1966 JETSTREAM.

P. S. Remember our advertisers when shopping. They played big roles also.

HAUSER ON THE MOVE HELPS A GROWING
COMMUNITY BY PATRONIZING MERCHANTS

Keep 'em rolling! The members of the 1966 Jet-stream staff moved out during the annual soliciting of advertisements this year to make this section bigger than ever. Since the ads section is so important, the staff has attempted to make this part of our book more interesting to you, the reader.

Local businessmen and women are a vital part, not only to the growing community they live in, but also to the publication of this yearbook.

AFTER A HARD DAY'S WORK, departure from school is a welcome relief for these Hauser students.

STUDENTS STRIVE FOR AWARDS

HO HUM! Butch Turner loves work.

DOES ANYONE HAVE some yarn? Paula Miller asks Linda Epperson, Pat Smith, and Mary McQueen as they get together at noon to mull over the morning's events.

SO WHAT IF WE didn't get into the new school! Ann Stafford shows how much fun it was to inspect the building before it was done.

I BET I GOT MORE right on my Senior Math than you did! Herb Boilinger gloats as Lynn Finke and Jim Robertson look doubtful.

"A SINGING WE WILL GO!" Seniors Linda Smith, Sharon Kennedy, and Barbara Keller leave Hauser for the McQueen building for chorus.
